

Press release: Boat & Party & Public Viewing Sleep in the harbor – party on land

Mueritz Sail, Oktoberfest, Seefest, musicals, festivals – the towns along the waterways in Mecklenburg-Vorpommern will be offering countless parties and festivities over the spring, summer and autumn. There is something for every taste and there is almost always a harbour within walking distance where a Houseboat can moor up, leaving you able to fall into bed after dancing the night away. Houseboats are perfect for experiencing nature and swimming breaks at anchor, but are also the ideal party vehicle for larger crews to travel from village festival A to public viewing B and on to concert C.

Kuhnle-Tours has compiled the best event tips for large crews on its website. The list is constantly being added to and expanded. By the way, love football – then fans don't even have to leave the harbor to watch the most important European Championship matches with the largest houseboat provider in the Lake District.

In the Pirates Hall directly in the harbour village of Mueritz, a large screen, a beer tap and a barbecue are set up in front of the hall. But there are also public viewings in many pubs and marketplaces along the way. So pack up your buddies or extended family, hire one or more boats and off you go for lots of great experiences.

More information on boats and dates can be found at boot in Duesseldorf (January 20 to 28, 2024) in hall 13 on stand D 53/59 right next to the big stage).
